

TARA Practice Light Stand

TARA AGC4P with Practice Light Stand

The TARA Practice Light Stand can be used with either the TARA AGC-3P or the AGC-4P to enhance the racing experience by providing larger staging lights. The Light Stand comes in one model that uses four lights for optimum flexibility because the Practice Control has an external league switch. The Practice Light Stand uses High Intensity LED Lights. These lights are bright enough to be seen even during the sunniest day. Measuring about six inches in height with one-inch lights, the Light Stand is tall enough to be easily seen by more than one rider.

A 20-foot cable connects the Light Stand to the AGCP, allowing the lights to be placed where they can best be seen. The connector used between AGCP and Light Stand is keyed, preventing operator error when attaching the cable.

The light stand uses a wooden stake for easy relocation. The wooden stake can be easily removed with two wing nuts for easy mounting to any other type of fixed or portable stand.
